

The Scleroderma Society Rose Harfrisky

The Scleroderma Society Rose is a show-stopper. Its abundance of pearly blush is in cool contrast to the brilliance of its dark glossy foliage. Such shining health and crisp freshness bring a touch of quality to any garden. Light colours are best for evenings - much appreciated by those late home from work! This is an excellent all-round garden plant, highly effective in groups for bedding and hedging, also elegant and refreshing in the vase. It has already earned its first silver medal in international competition. The scent is pleasing, light and fresh.

Uses: Borders, beds, groups and cutting. Suitable for growing in containers

Perfume: Medium Disease resistance: Excellent

Height: 90 cm Planting distance: 70cm

The Scleroderma Society Rose would make an ideal gift for a friend or relative perhaps for a birthday or as a "thank you". The Scleroderma Society also benefits by receiving a donation for every rose sold, so your gift would also be contributing to our fundraising.

Scleroderma is a rare autoimmune connective tissue disease which may affect the joints, tendons, muscles, skin, blood vessels, heart, lungs and many other organs.

The Scleroderma Society is a registered charity (286736) formed in 1982 to provide help and support for people with this illness. The society also funds medical & scientific research which will lead to better treatments and understanding of this complex condition.
